Facts about Sexual Assault

Out of 100 Rapes:

On average, only 32 out of 100 rapes are reported to police.

7 out of 100 rapes lead to an arrest. The other 93% will walk free.

3 out of 100 rapes are referred to prosecutors.

2 out of 100 rapes lead to a felony conviction.

2 out of 100 rapists will spend at least a single day in jail.

Sexual assault is one of the most underreported crimes with 68% not reported.

Why will only 2 out of 100 rapists serve time?

The majority of sexual assaults are not reported to police. With an average of 68% of all sexual assaults unreported, those rapists will never spend a day in prison. Even when the crime is reported, it isn't likely to lead to an arrest and prosecution. Factoring in unreported rapes, only 2% of rapists will serve time in prison.

PWF Can Help

If you know anyone who has been victimized or is still at risk, please have them contact PWF. Our mission is to help victims recover from the traumas of past violence and to be able to protect themselves from future incidents.
